BENGALIA (ben gal' yuh) [deriv. of Bengal (ben gawl'), a province in N.E. India] noun 1 Den of the Withrow Tigers. 2 An atmosphere of academic climate BENGALIAN (ben gal' ee un) noun A member of Withrow High School, circa 1966. —adj. Of or pertaining to individual growth through expression and service. Synonym (noun): Withrow High School.

Bengalia-

Den of the Withrow Tigers

Amid the changing seasons Withrow's campus undergoes a rhythmic conversion: autumn sunlight first butters the foliage . . . damp walls reflect a somber forecast . . . snow drops a blanket below the bridge . . . the tower stands silhouetted against a white sheet . . . yellow shoots break the earth . . . cherry blossoms gild the sidewalks . . . begonias redden the driveway's circle . . . birds sip from the dancing fountain . . . the cycle begins anew . . .

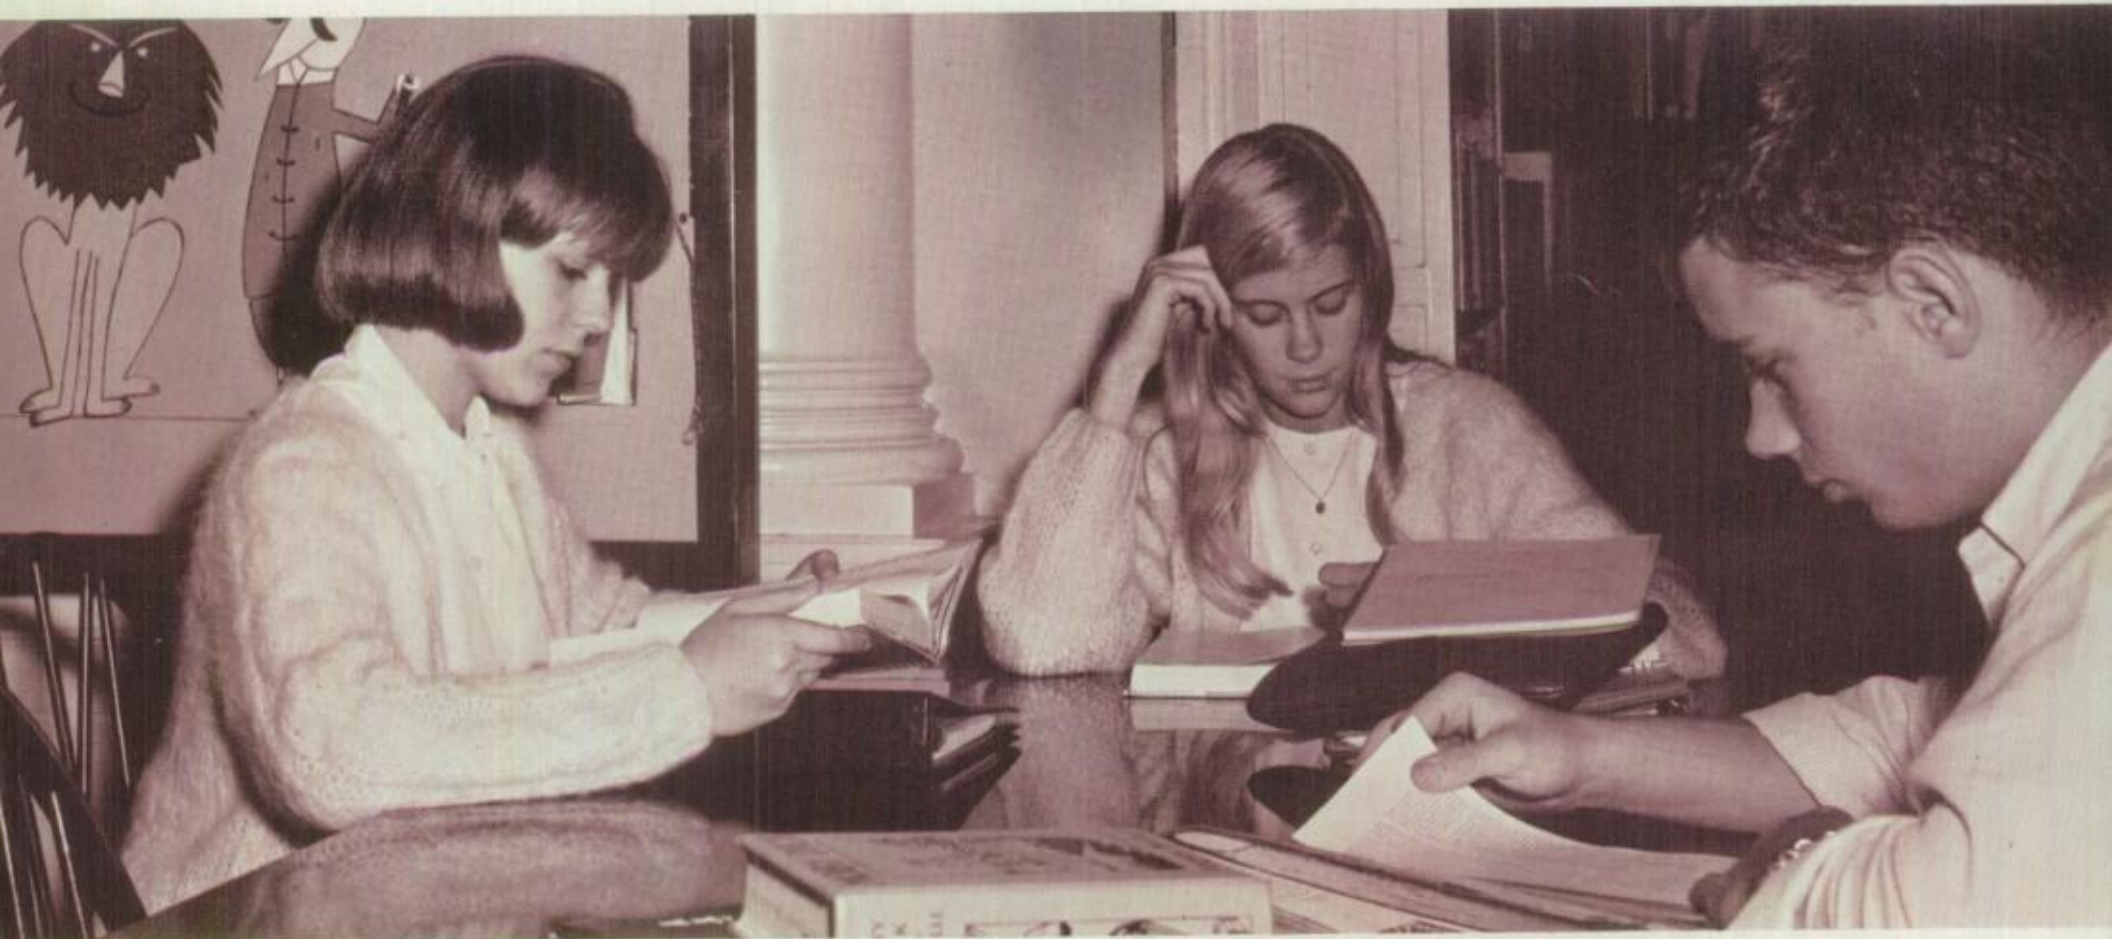

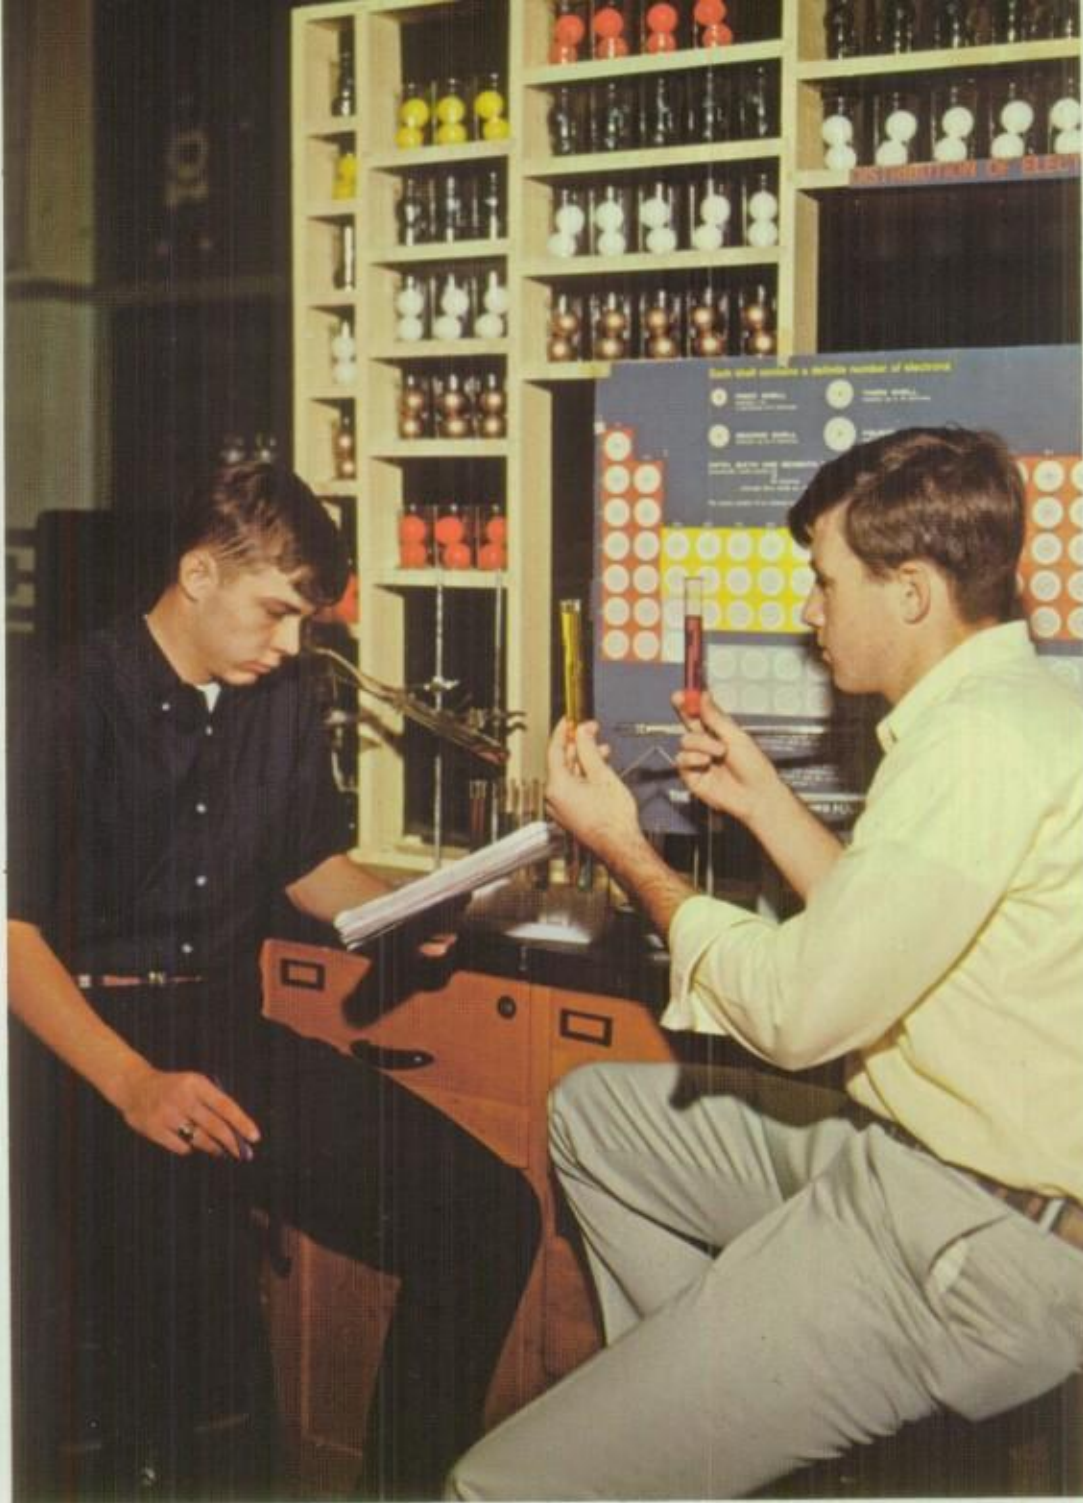

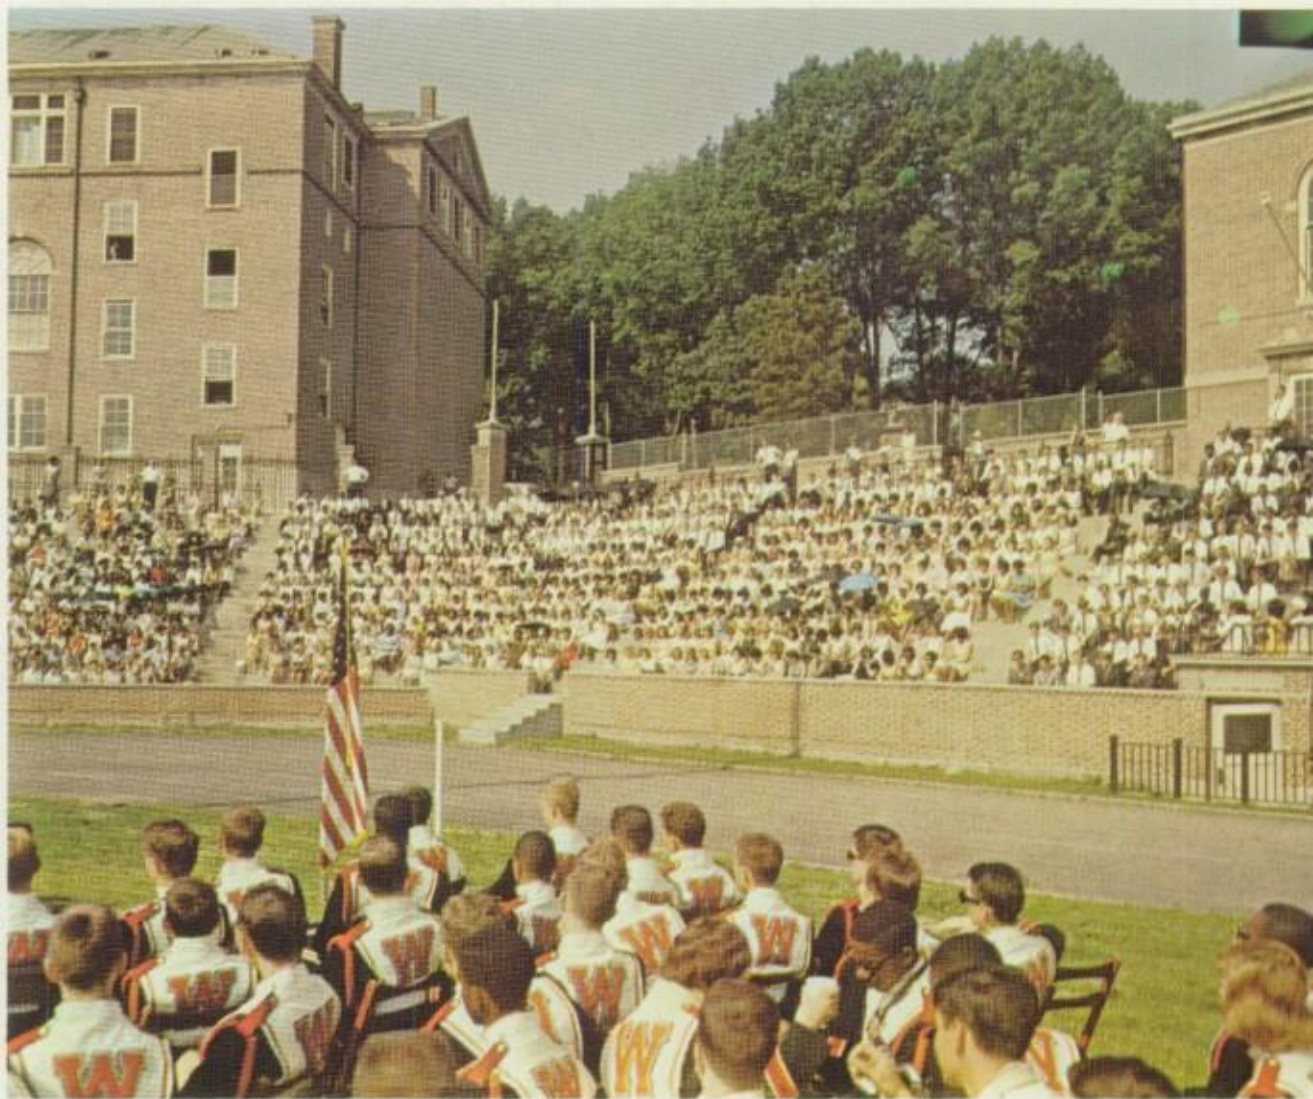

Bengalia-

An atmosphere of academic achievement

Reaching toward the heights of academic achievement, a student develops an incentive to widen human understanding and attain personal goals. Ensuing reward comes not only from acclaim but also from the thrill of mastering a complex subject, learning a new process, or perceiving an idea. This personal satisfaction provides the true prize of knowledge.

Bengalian-

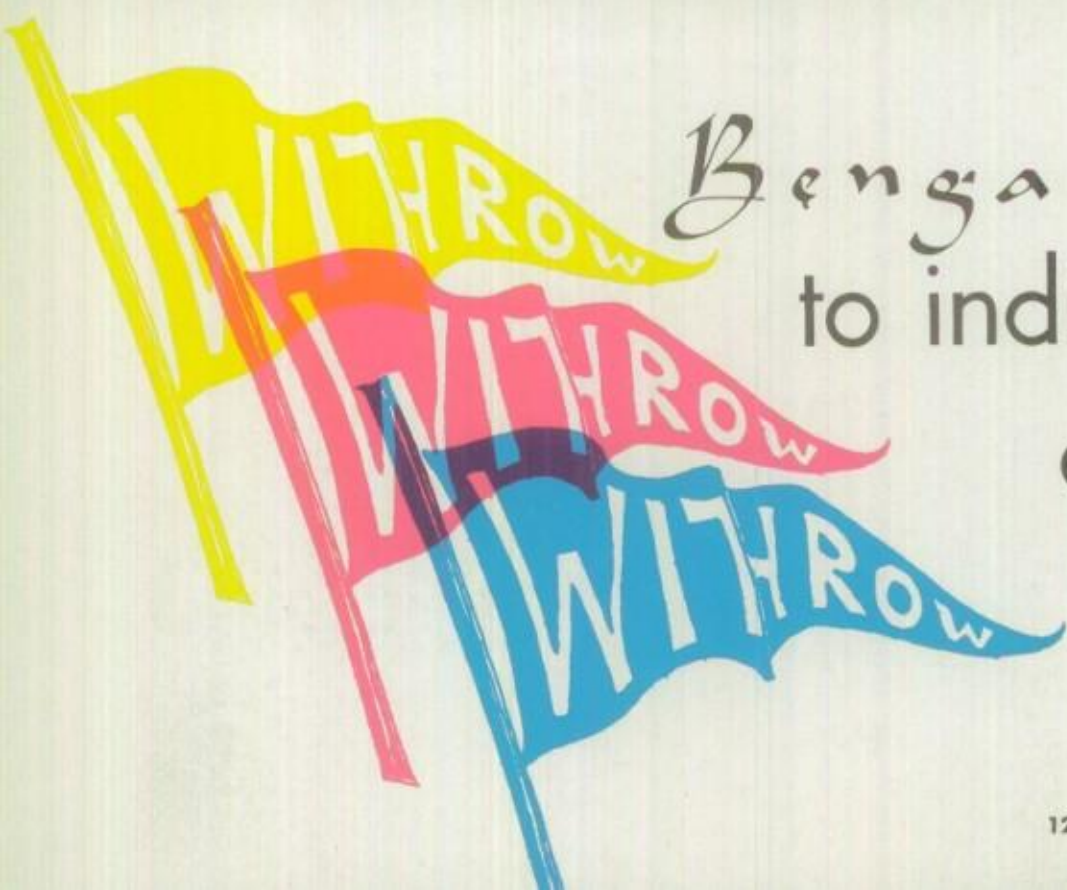

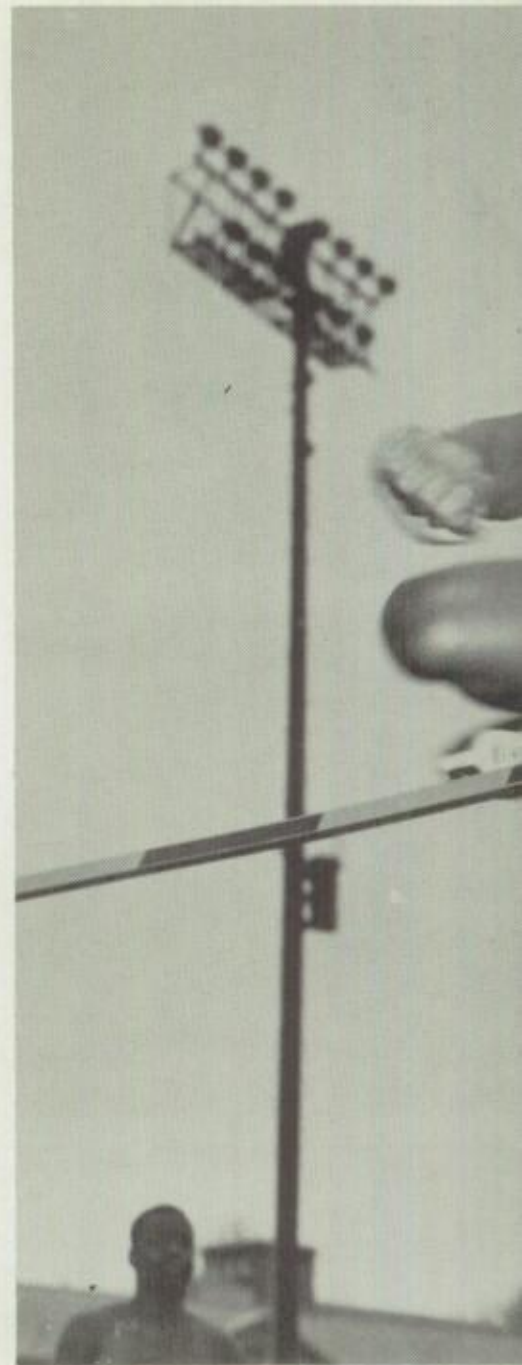

Member of
Withrow High School

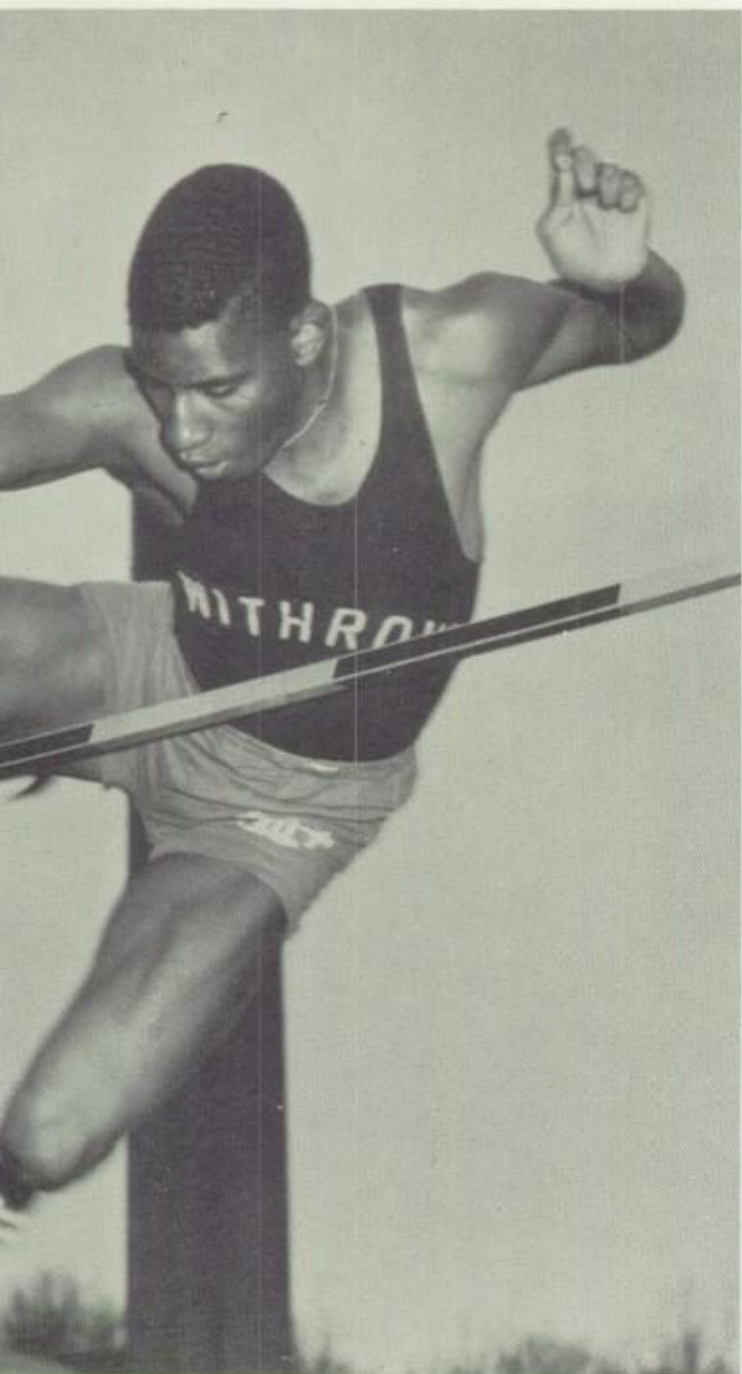

Probing scholars; creative artisans; champion athletes; polished musicians; youths of diverse races, creeds, and talents—all unite under the tower's shadow as Americans and Tigers. They find at Withrow the challenges and rewards that serve as an apprenticeship for adult living.

Bengalian: of or pertaining to individual growth through expression and service

With each experience a student shapes his character, forming boldness from success and prudence from failure. Education as a pathway to new experiences touches every student with some lasting imprint, but the individual decides to what depth this impression marks his life. The test of learning is personal growth, and here Bengalia finds its purpose.

Under the supervision of Mr. Walter Davidson, the science department attempted to meet its goal of providing each student with the most liberal education possible.

MR. SHERMAN SPRINGS A POP QUIZ IN SOCIO-ECONOMICS.

The purpose of social studies is to develop effective citizens capable of functioning in a democratic society. These citizens have information about the past to explain the present and are able to judge in the future.

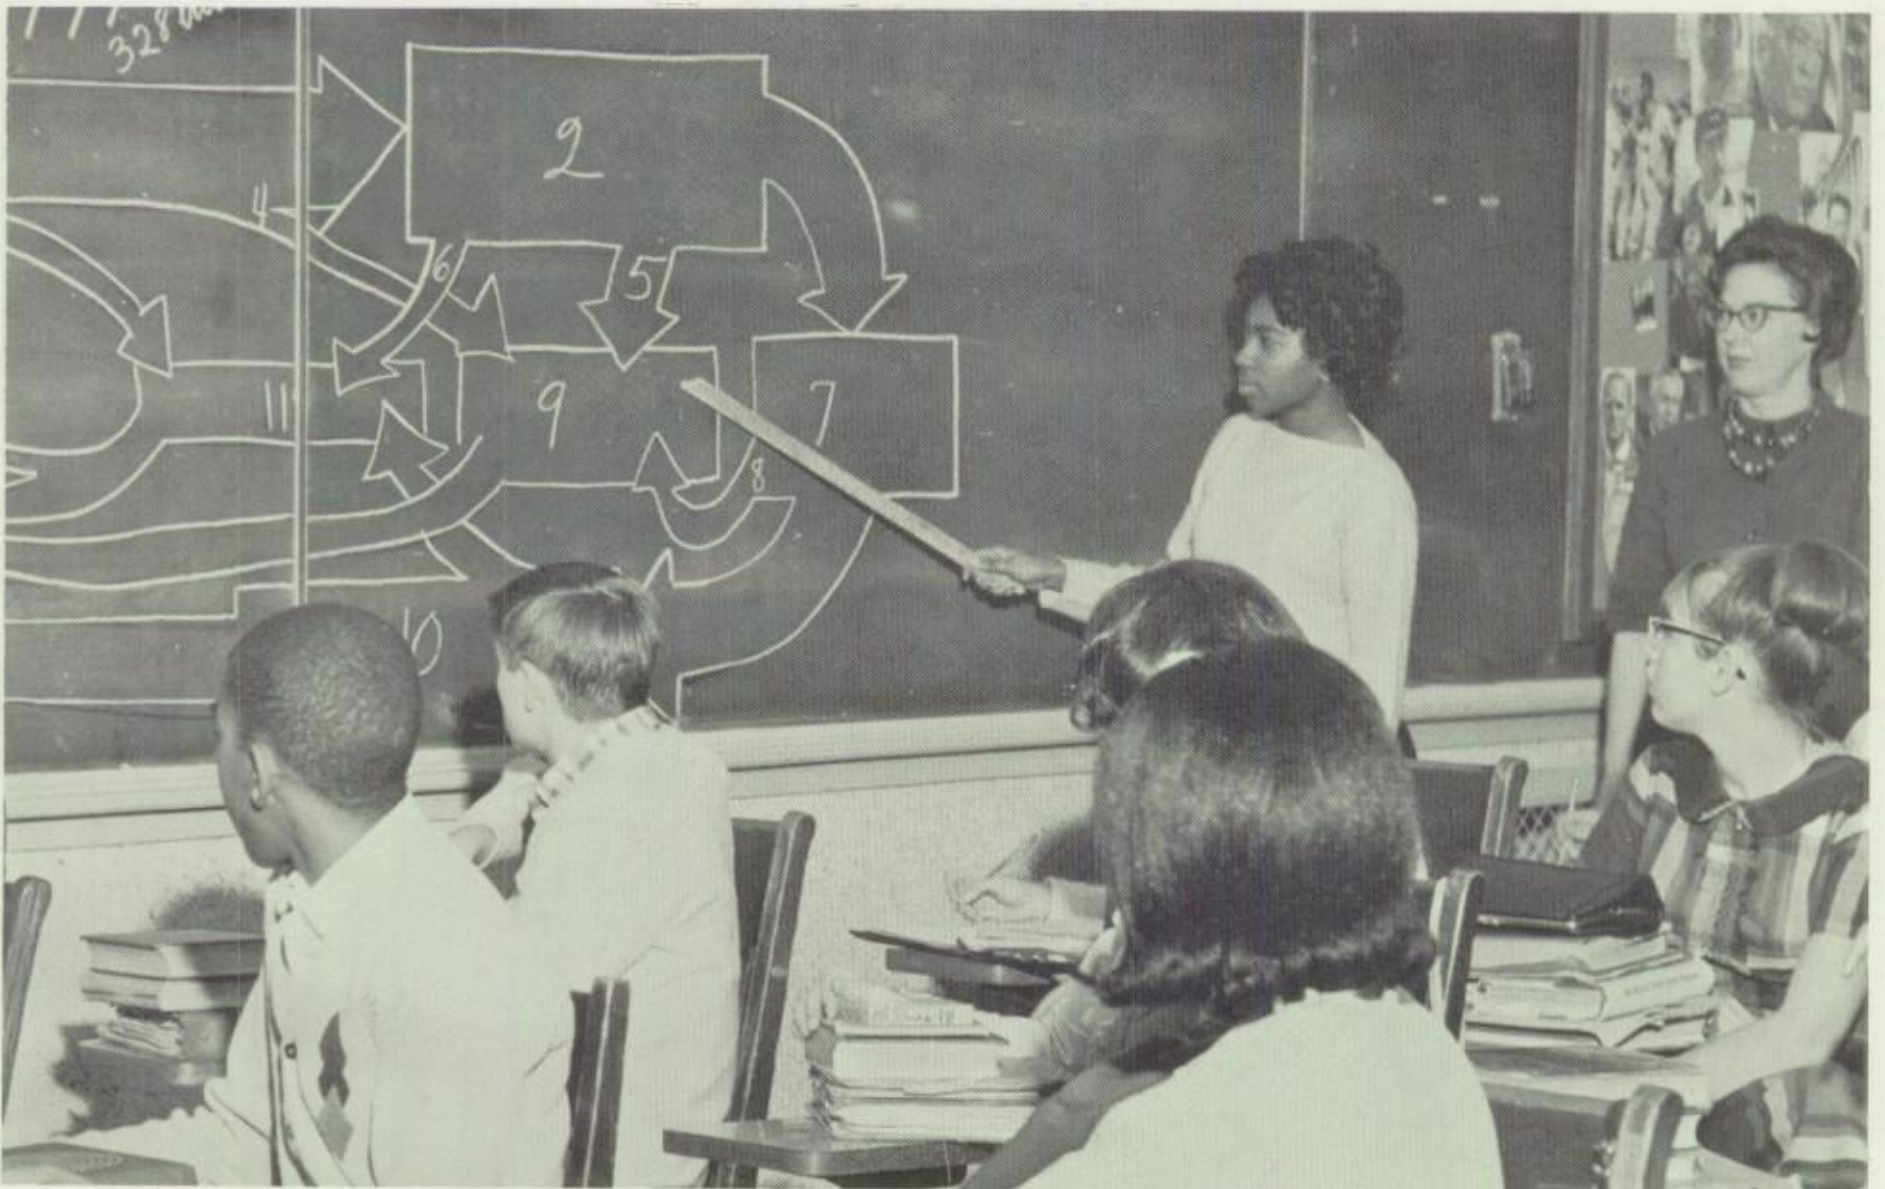

The Result of Withrow's Effective History Curriculum

Developing that historical way of thinking, Withrow's Social Studies department has obtained an open-minded attitude and a drive for progress. Mr. Jenike engendered probing minds for the seniors who accepted the challenge of a college level course in European history. Another addition to the department was Ancient and Medieval History for the freshmen's questioning minds. It was a year of progress for our history department.

FILMS PROVIDE A VIVID DIMENSION TO CLASSIC LITERATURE.

No longer are English classes limited to grammar and rhetoric. Withrow's English department has made a concerted effort to enrich its program with student drama, artistic projects, suggested TV viewing, and reduced prices to neighborhood theatres.

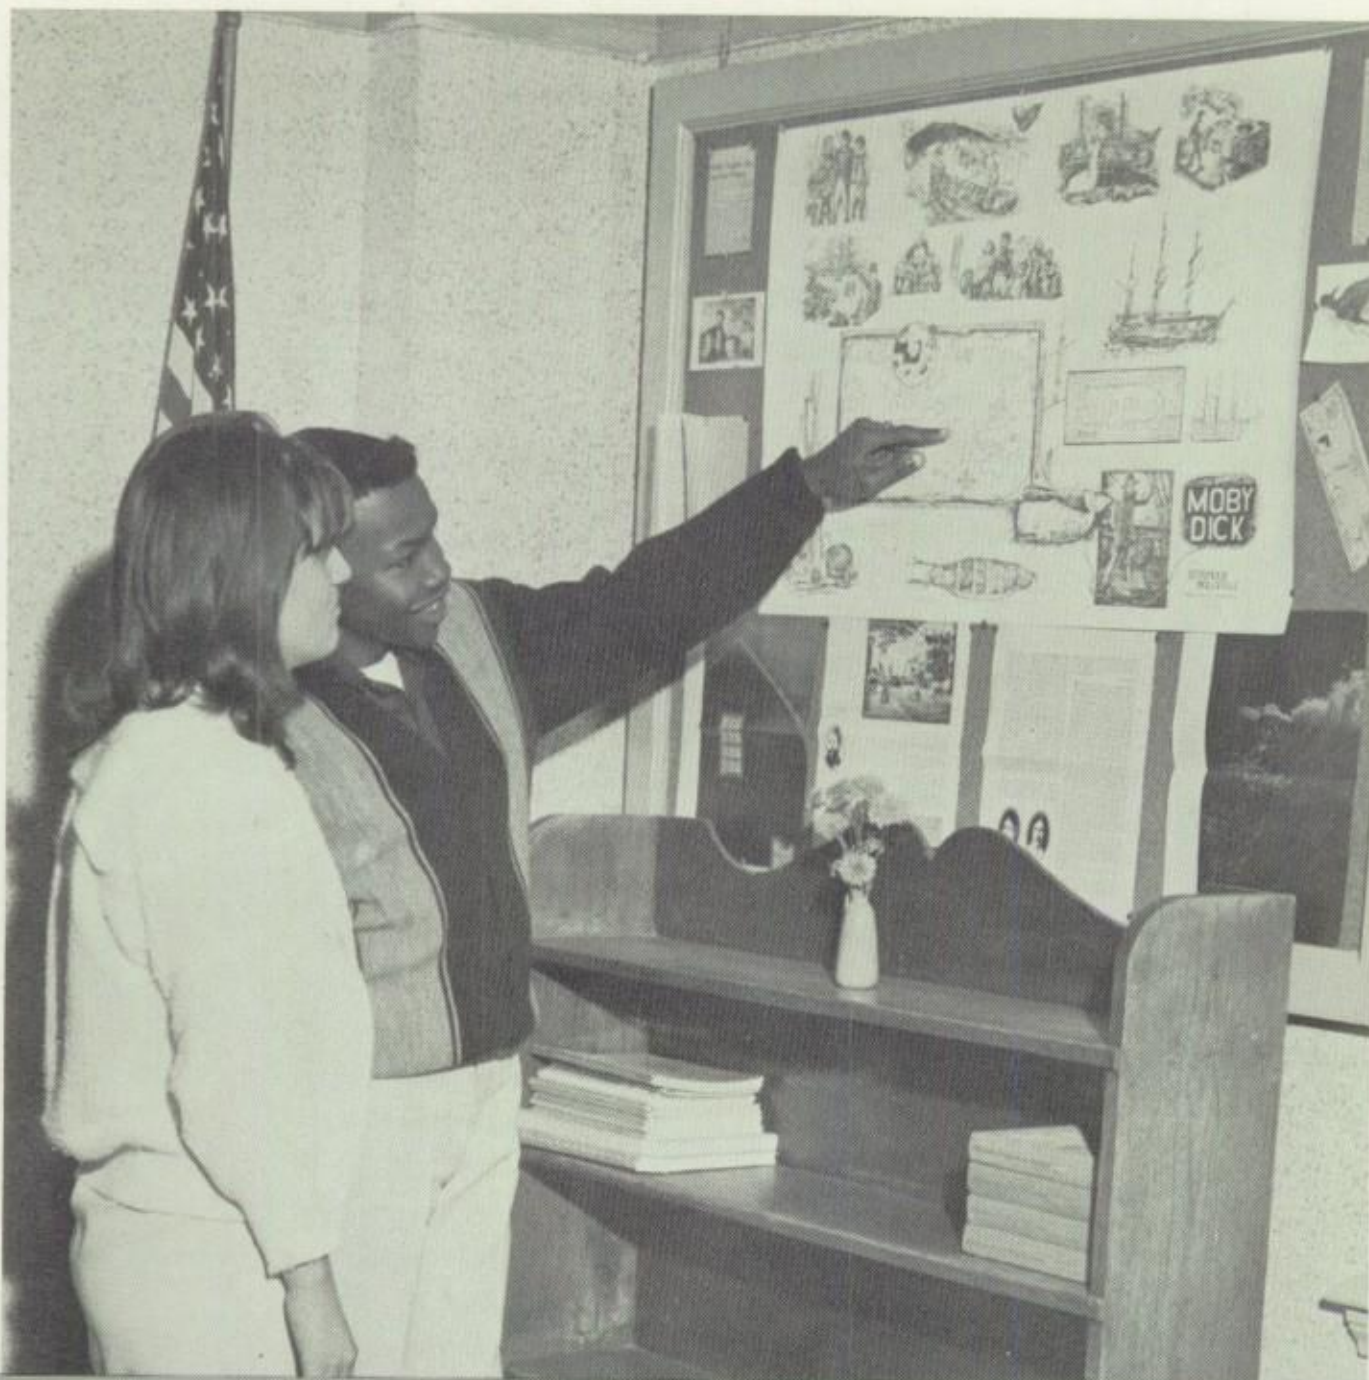

The King's English was taught with a new twist by Withrow's largest faculty section. Supervised by Miss Virginia Beck, the English department went outside the classroom to foster education as advisers to Annual, TOWER NEWS, Thalian Club, Quill and Scroll, and Scribblers.

LEARNING DECLENSIONS BECOME AN EVER RISING BATTLE FOR MANY LATIN STUDENTS.

Parlez-vous French, Spanish, or German? This year the Cincinnati public schools have experimented with a new approach to teaching how to "parley" foreign languages. Starting with the first-year students only, the curriculum concentrated on listening and speaking. The second year will evolve into speaking and reading; the third, reading and writing; and as always, the last year will be devoted to studying literary works. With this device of learning a language, the rules come naturally as they are based on dialogues. With new textbooks to accompany the new method, first-year students have proven this a success.

Besides solving equations Withrow's mathematics department answered the challenges of contrast and depth in curriculum. With courses varying from geometry to calculus and levels from Advanced Placement to Basic, every student could take a course to match his needs.

A RAISED HAND MEANS AN ALERT MIND.

Math is an everchanging science and Withrow's math department always keeps pace. Under Miss Eleanor Graham's guidance, an accelerated program was initiated as a follow-up to the "new" math in grade school. Able students were given geometry in eighth grade and algebra in ninth as preparatory to a senior course in freshman calculus.

SNIP, CUT—AND SOON THE FORM OF A SKIRT EMERGES.

"'TIS A CONSUMMATION DEVOUTLY TO BE WISHED."

Cooking and sewing, the proper diet, the art of caring for others—all these personified Home Economics. The male counterpart, Industrial Arts, taught the agile the craft of using one's hands in attaining a vocation.

While the aroma of bacon drifted lazily down the upstairs halls, the basement held smells of sawdust and moulded metal. The sizzle of the irons and whirr of the sewing machines competed with the buzzing of the tools. The sources of these phenomena, Home Economics and Industrial Arts, guided teens to adulthood.

Educators have recognized the fact that physical exercise is just as important for teen-agers as mental exercise. Accordingly, programs of physical education have been introduced into the curricula of the nation's high schools. Indoor and outdoor sports, plus a measure of physical conditioning, composed the program for Withrow students. The boys participated in touch football, basketball, volleyball, and softball. The girls were not quite so rough, but just as spirited as they took part in field hockey, archery, volleyball, and basketball. While this activity helped keep the students healthy, it also gave them a chance to work off the tensions that built up during the day.

In our school's curriculum physical education is stressed in the seventh through eleventh grades to produce healthier pupils in mind and body.

Bengal administrators marched through the '65-'66 school year letting no obstacle stymie them. Arriving at the front in late August, the assistant principals made ready for the post-Labor Day attack. Miss Violet Balastra prepared to help the seniors plan their class project and the many lucrative ventures to attain this goal. Ready to help ninth and tenth graders when they attempt to make the transition to senior high was Mr. William McElhaney. Waiting for junior high students in need of help or discipline was Mr. Ronald Lyons. In retrospect this Bengal offensive proved infallible.

Quantum theory, kinetic energy, and Brownian motion are some of the nomenclature that typified the physics classes of Mr. Melville Bosse. As head of P.S.S.C. at Withrow, Mr. Bosse instilled in his students a scientific way of thought through lecture and experimentation. Prior to coming to Withrow, he served in the Army and obtained degrees from Wilmington College and Purdue University. With much of his time taken up by four sons, he still found odd hours at home to read scientific periodicals.

A realization that life is not a gift and that we should make our own way was reflected in the life of Lillian Denner. Time at school found her conducting physiology classes with after school hours dedicated to the student's attention, Cum Laude and Health Careers Club. An experienced traveler, Miss Denner has journeyed to Europe twice and also has spent time in Scandinavia. Her moments of leisure absorbed semi-classical music and medical television programs. The future foretold of a possible excursion to Australia. A life of high values and hard work was exemplified by Lillian Denner.

En'er get'ic ed'u ca'tor (ēn'ēr jēt'ik ēd'ŭ kā tēr), n[L. educate] 1. A person who obtained a good background for teaching at the University of Cincinnati and Bowling Green State University; 2. One who constantly improved himself and others by attending meetings and conferences on the new math concepts (i.e., presiding over the Math Club of Cincinnati, serving on the Ohio Math Council, and traveling to National Math Council conferences); 3. A person who had outside interests (i.e., operating a ham radio on which he talked with people from various states, activities at his church several nights each week); 4. One who created an ideal atmosphere for learning, ordinary topics made exciting in casual surroundings. Synonym: Mr. Call.

As the curtains opened, the spotlight focused on the main character—Mrs. Martha Philley. The first scene of the play transpired in her eighth grade English classroom. Here she was seen applying many of the principles taught in the Montessori method of education. Opening the next scene was a troubled student discovering that confiding in Mrs. Philley was easily done. Scene three: Ann Philley co-starred with her mother as they reviewed their activities of the day. Following this act, our main character was found stimulating her cultural interests while she attended the symphony-concert and theatre.

In this perpetually changing world only the past remains constant. Mr. Burton Garrett taught Withrow juniors the most important facet of the past for them—American History. Comparing present-day problems with the past was Mr. Garrett's method. For example, he maintained that the struggle of the American Negro could have been prevented by Congress one hundred years ago. In addition to teaching, Mr. Garrett served as faculty adviser for Student Council and a sponsor of Hi-Y. Outside school he had the distinction of holding the rank of major in an Army Reserve guerilla unit. For students looking toward the future Mr. Garrett recommended the teaching profession for giving personal fulfillment in helping young people help themselves.

Through the teaching of Mrs. Sally Hill, Withrow's Latin scholars took a lively journey in study of our Roman heritage. Known fondly as one of the seven Hills of Rome, she made real the battles of Caesar, orations of Cicero, and verses of Vergil. As sponsor of Gens Togata, Mrs. Hill encouraged a lasting interest in classical customs and rituals. The all-toga Latin banquet and symbolic "sacrifice of chickens" showed little sign of Latin being a "dead language." A more modern pursuit came on Friday nights when Mr. and Mrs. Hill cheered Tiger teams to victory.

Henry Van Dyke wrote, "He who loves most has most." The loves of Miss Hilda Moormann were reflected in the glow of her eyes, in the radiance of her smile, and the swiftness of her speech as she pondered her fancies. Being a patron of the theatre, she traveled to other parts of North America to visit Shakespearean Festivals and was charmed when Cincinnati added Edgecliff to what she believed an already thriving cultural program. "Tam O'Shanter," "Bobby" Burns, Robert Frost, William Shakespeare, her dog Queenie—these were only a part of her vast circle of friends.

Dr. Srofe? Well, almost! Having been reared in a family of medical men, Mr. Garner Srofe grew up believing he would someday become a dentist. Although he did not enter this profession, he brought many of the admirable qualities of the doctor to teaching. Impeccably dressed in a tweed suit, this history teacher looked as clean-cut as the medic in his white coat. His clear blue eyes sparkled, as he lectured from his stool in the front of the room, or listened to an oral report by one of his students.

Seniors

Eight hundred seniors, led by four ingenious officers, composed the largest, most dynamic, and most creative graduating class in the history of Withrow.

Senior Class Officers: Dave Hasel, president; Jill Hampton, vice president; Sandra Jones, secretary; Charlotte McFall, treasurer.

Promising to be a group of enterprising future businessmen were the seniors of sixty-six, whose monetary transactions enabled them to rank high above all previous graduating classes in that department. The regular money-making project of candy sales was not imaginative enough for them! They supplemented it by selling tiger tails and stuffed animals. Entering into the holiday spirit, the seniors peddled pumpkins for Halloween goblins and marketed mistletoe at Christmas time. By releasing their excess energy at sock-hops and the Awards Day picnic, the upperclassmen proved they could have fun while they gathered the profits of progressive thinking. Several movie days, in which Hollywood's finest were brought to Withrow, drew the biggest benefits to the seniors' cause—the establishment of a permanent scholarship fund.

SIGMA GAMMA

Each year Awards Day bring a joyous moment for twelve junior boys who become the new members of Sigma Gamma. The Sigs of '66, following in the footsteps of their predecessors, served Withrow well. They produced Tigertown Twirl and Senior Prom, raised money for scholarship funds, and took on leadership responsibilities around school. As their final duty, the boys chose twelve more worthy juniors as Sigs.

DUX FEMINA

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" Withrow's garden grew red carnations to be given to twelve senior girls who earned Dux Femina membership. Called to its ranks were those who exhibited leadership qualities and high scholastic abilities. Popcorn sales supplied funds for the Dux girls' major project—a scholarship donation. Yes, this garden grew "pretty maids all in a row."

GARY ROEDER—Sigma Gamma

"Where is your I.D. card?" inquired senior Gary Roeder whenever a sinister Tiger approached the ticket booth. As Mr. Gallagher's sales clerk he spent lunch hours raising money for Withrow's Athletic Department. With his Pep Club button Gary was seen cheering at all games. In addition, he attained recognition for his achievements in advanced placement chemistry and math when he received his call to Sigma Gamma. These pursuits and congeniality marked his progress at Withrow and set the pace for his advancement in his future endeavors.

With a burst of energy that extended itself in diverse directions, Jean Heimann left her achievements imprinted on Withrow. "Em" employed her talents in a Minstrel performance or in leading the band as head major-ette. Spending a great deal of her time in the Girls' Gym, she relaxed from her duties as GAA president long enough to plunge into the pool with Dolphin Club. Dux membership represented the serious side of her outlook on life, part of which came from a summer spent in Europe. The insight which Jean gained from this trip was a spark in the vitality-filled life of a talented Tiger.

PAUL TOMES—Sigma Gamma

Put a tiger on your team. Versatile Paul Tomes was Withrow's tiger on the varsity baseball squad as he hit and fielded his way to three years on the first string lineup. While covering first base, "P.T." also played a varied part in other school organizations. Prominent in the class of '66, Paul had connections with Pep Club and Student Council. During the minstrels, P.T. rained humor on the audience as endman, "Percipitate." In recognition of his efforts Paul Tomes gained entrance to Withrow's honorary fraternity—Sigma Gamma, in which he was elected President.

"Be willing to try everything at least one time because you just might like it," philosophized Dux Nancy Fahrney. Leading Scribblers, editing the introduction of the annual, camping, floating down a Wisconsin river in an innertube, befriending all with a warmth and graciousness that characterized the poise she possessed—these were some of the challenges that Nance accepted with a definite eagerness and adeptness. As she looked forward to trying her hand at international affairs, she reflected upon the many things she had attempted and liked—even climbing trees!

CUM LAUDE

Rising from his seat on the stage, a teacher began his journey down the aisle. Silence pervaded the crowded auditorium as suspense built. Those students who had accumulated a 3.36 or better grade average waited expectantly. Who would wear the gold cross? Suddenly there was a shout, as another student was tapped!

CHARLOTTE McFALL—Dux Femina

Take a blank piece of paper. Add to it the president of Latin Club presiding over a meeting. Next, place on this layout a picture of a Dux girl counting money for the senior class or scratching notes in Scribblers. Now have "Char" leaping across the page for Dance Club as treasurer and secretary. In the center of the page put a picture of a bustling Art Editor as she scurries to finish her work. In one corner show the vice president of History Club or a member of Quill and Scroll. Now, in the focus of importance, show a member of Cum Laude proudly wearing her pin.

Bill Doyle made a splash at Withrow as a breast-stroke swimmer on the school team. In addition, artistic talents earned him a place on the Annual Staff as a sports editor and a niche in Quill and Scroll. Both of these activities reflect his interest in writing which found academic outlet in advanced English. Besides amphibious pursuits, Bill occasionally strummed on his "Fender-Stratocaster" a la rock and roll. During the summer he indulged in camping at Camp Hayo-Went-Ha in Michigan. After this whirl of industry at Withrow, Bill welcomed College life.

LUCY HOWARD—Dux Femina

$K.E. = \frac{1}{2}mv^2$ is the equation for kinetic energy, the energy of motion or activity, the driving force of Bengali-ans. Results of this energy were evident everywhere, much of which could be attributed to a certain energized individual. Supplying much vigor in the girls' pool, she presided as president of Dolphin Club and created ballet routines for the water show. Energy depleted sixth bell was hardly missed from an overflowing supply as she marched with the band. To consume curricular energy she studied Advanced Math and Chemistry. $K.E. = \text{Lucy Howard}$.

No yardstick exists which can exactly measure the respect or admiration a person receives; yet, being elected class president by the largest class ever graduated from Withrow was one of the signs of the success of Sig Dave Hasel. He displayed the same initiative and dependability that won him this honor as he supported Eagle Scouts and numerous church activities; but just as familiar as Dave's capability was his easy, joking grin. Whether he was managing the bookstore, picking pumpkins for the senior class, or presiding at History Club, Dave seemed perfectly at ease.

JOHN OLERT—Sigma Gamma

Withrow has meant many thoughts to many people, but to John Olert Withrow meant challenges and rewards. In the classroom he tackled advanced courses in math, chemistry, and physics while still attaining a high class rank. As a Withrow swimmer he faced a grueling practice session every morning throughout the winter. Three years on the Student Council provided John with first-experience in leadership. On a lighter side Minstrels gave him the chance to show off his subtle wit as endman "Delirium." Clearly, Sigma Gamma chose a fitting member in John Olert.

Money, money is everywhere. To where it flew only Connie knew. As business editor of the annual staff, her sixth and "seventh" bells were taken over by Annual, popcorn, bake sales, and keeping her staff on their toes. Many matters, however, did not end with the Annual as Dolphin Club found the need for the "sporty" mathematician. Usually laughing, but always conscientious, Connie achieved her highest aim when she was able to decorate the goal post. Her versatility was again unveiled when Quill and Scroll became another activity. Yes, Dux Femina made a wise choice when they called Connie Rauch.

DAVE BERRY—Sigma Gamma

Forever unique was Sir David Berry. He was respectfully called "Rat" by his associates. Despite the nickname, he was far from a scavenger. With interest ranging from girls to guitars he aimed his efforts toward his goals. Contributing to school came naturally as this lad was involved in keeping the book-room in order. Sir David played for Chess Club where he was often "Checkmated." His deftness in his scholastic endeavors were awarded the honor of Cum Laude in the fall tapping and promised a bright future in engineering. He came; he saw; he contributed.

"Tiger, tiger burning bright . . ." When William Blake wrote these words, he could have had Withrow's own Christy McTigue in mind. Christy's light glowed brightly when she received her goal-directed call to Dux. When she accepted the responsibility as Treasurer of Student Council, the brilliance intensified. Her warmth was once more in evidence as she cheered with unabashed joy as a member of the varsity cheerleading squad. Christy truly proved herself to be a "tiger burning bright" in the eyes of the other Bengaliens who knew her.

PHIL HAUGHT—Sigma Gamma

Stockbrokers, Wall Street Journals, and annual dividends were all evidences of Phil Haught's venture into speculative finance. As a stockholder in several companies, including a missile producer, Phil investigated his probable future occupation, business administration. While holding down a part-time job, he found time to apply his energy as ticket manager of Minstrels and as a Junior Achiever. With non-business hours occupied by service in Pep, Chess, and History Clubs, Phil Haught proved himself both a businessman and a student, deserving of his call to Sigma Gamma.

In September, 1960, history was made—our Dux Historian entered Withrow. Re-creation of history throughout her Bengalian years was not difficult for Kathy Royalty. Learning of both past and present events, she loyally kept up to date the journal for Latin Club and recorded data for History Club. She soon discovered that she had to divide her literary faculties among Scribblers, Quill and Scroll and Tower News' second page. Kathy avidly voiced her opinions in student council and her MYF while Pep Club and church choir claimed her vocal abilities. In June, 1966, she ended her Tiger saga.

BILL HAWKINS—Sigma Gamma

"Always leave 'em laughing" was the creed of Sigma Gamma's own Bill Hawkins. His merriment was heightened, when, as captain of the golf team, he led them to a victorious fourth place in the state tournament. When reminded of his three years as a member of Student Council, this Sig's genial smile broadened. Bill, however, managed to keep his infectious grin in check long enough to get down to participating in other activities, such as, Latin and History Clubs. His humor won him many rewarding positions at Withrow and brought him the respect of his fellow tigers.

"On Withrow, on Withrow," was music to the ears of Dux president Marsha Quebe. This quiet senior band member for three years marched down the football field and played in presentation orchestra. Along with her flute she treasured offices held in History Club and Spanish Club, while literary talents enabled her to write free-lance articles for Tower News and serve as corresponding secretary for Scribblers. Fascinated by foreign language, "Marci" planned to major in Spanish. Her genuine concern for people and intelligence meriting Cum Laude combined to form the Bengalian personified.

JOE DEHNER—Sigma Gamma

A red-blooded politician no matter what the occasion, Joe Dehner won over Withrow in a three-year whirlwind campaign of academic prowess, extracurricular pursuits, and infectious smiles. With Joe as president, the Student Council effected its most productive work in many years, including sponsorship of Withrow's first foreign exchange student. As a key member of the tennis team, Joe with George Mehl captured Ohio's runner-up doubles trophy. Cum Laude, Tower News, Senior Band, and Minstrels were all a part of a schedule that made Joe Dehner the "people's choice."

An inclination toward folk music led Sandy Jones to record, in a ballad, her life at Withrow. The basic chord sounded her love for French and art, in which fields she planned to major in college. Her interest in people provided variation to the tone which reverberated with membership in Dux Femina. The theme of the ballad portrayed the leadership and dependability which she displayed at Tigertown as secretary of the Senior Class. As Manager of Tower News Business Staff, Sandy Jones used her practical skills to end her eventful ballad on a high note.

HOMEcoming QUEEN CANDIDATES WITH THEIR DATES ON A FESTIVE OCCASION.

Beginning with parade from Hyde Park Square and ending with a crowning, candidates are honored.

ANNOUNCING OF THE QUEEN HIGHLIGHTS AN EVENING OF ANTICIPATION.

JILL DISPLAYS THE SMILE THAT WON, AS SHE RECEIVES THE ROSES.

One way Withrow had of honoring its outstanding students was through elections of kings and queens of the three major dances. Nominated by the senior class, the winners were chosen by pupils attending the dance. Each king and queen received an identification bracelet, while the queen was also presented with a dozen long-stemmed roses. The royal kiss climaxed the evening for a happy couple.

HOMEcoming—JOE DEHNER AND JILL HAMPTON.

A MYSTERY IS SOLVED WITH DEHNER HOMEcoming KING.

CARDIAC CAPERS—JOHN OLERT AND JEAN HEIMANN.

ROYALTY

TIGERTOWN TWIRL—BILL HAWKINS AND SUE SLAUGHTER.

TOM SHEAR—Sigma Gamma

A notable inhabitant of Bengalia was Tom Shear, cashkeeper for the safaris of Sigma Gamma. Tom hit the mark as Activities Editor of the Annual Art Staff and member of History, Spanish, and Pep Clubs. Whether cheering for a Withrow team or doing a difficult homework assignment, his attitude was one of enthusiasm. The target of much needling by friends, Tom got revenge by playing clever practical jokes on them. As a Bengalian he developed a liking for English teachers, just one of many achievements in his wisely spent and prosperous interim at Tigertown.

"If it happened, it's here," proudly proclaimed Tower News on its bannerhead. As Tower News editor-in-chief, Ann Slutz was here and things happened. She evinced her dramatic talent in Thalian Club; served in Quill and Scroll, and led Minstrels as secretary. As Girls' Week representative and a member of History Club, Ann practiced her citizenship instead of preaching it. Her school spirit was evident, for she participated in Pep Club and G.A.A. With this well rounded schedule, pleasing personality, and an affinity for people, Ann Slutz was a real DUX.

PHIL SITTON—Sigma Gamma

With a ready handshake and a readier grin, Phil Sitton made congeniality his by-word and popularity his forte. A true "builder of tomorrow," Phil worked toward entering architectural engineering, selecting mechanical drawing, advanced drafting, and advanced physics as part of his curriculum. He used non-classroom hours to serve on various Student Council committees and to direct his church's local youth group. The culmination of his Bengalian years came as a senior when Phil earned a Cum Laude "tapping" and helped to manage Sigma Gamma as its vice president.

Bang! The race had begun for Dux's vice president. In the first lap Pam Shaffer, aspiring toward a journalistic career, acquired experience from Quill and Scroll and Scribblers. Surpassing her rivals, Pam also called orders as Towers News' first page editor. With the second lap she breathlessly proved her vitality as a cheerleader and Pep Club member. Thrice around the track this spunky Tigress verified her citizenship as a volunteer hospital worker and an apt choice for Student Council and Girls' Week. Upon nearing the finish line, Pam was merely starting her race. Snap!

JILL HAMPTON—Dux Femina

Many facets reflect a diamond's attributes. Through rhythmic talents gleamed the presidency of Dance Club and a position as a pony teacher, while stadium lights captured the glow of blonde hair flying through a cheer for the Tiger team. From within the diamond shone the responsibility of the Senior Class vice president, whose popularity resulted in her election to Daisy Chain. The call to Dux added luster to the life of Withrow's Homecoming Queen. Meriting Cum Laude, Jill Hampton sparkled as one of the brightest in Withrow's spectrum.

"The kick is up, and it's good!" This phrase was often heard at Withrow's 1965 football games as Carlos Ibanez executed his Spanish kick on America's gridiron. As Withrow's first foreign exchange student, he thoroughly immersed himself in the activities of Tiger-town. In sports he sprinted for the track team, freestyled on the swimming squad, and even formed a soccer team. Apart from sports, Carlos contributed to clubs such as Hi-Y, Spanish, and chess. In addition, he scheduled advanced courses in math and physics. In fact, Carlos gave fresh impetus to Withrow's exchange program.

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

"Only fifty cents, only fifty pennies for a bar of the world's finest chocolate," was the cry of our Student Council representatives. During 1965 and 1966 the Student Council, under the leadership of Joe Dehner, worked diligently to improve Withrow. For the first time the Student Council sponsored a foreign exchange student. With the help of the American Field Service, Carlos Ibanez, a Spaniard, spent his senior year at Withrow. The student representative programs varied from the selling of light bulbs and key chains to a Hootenanny, featuring faculty musicians. Thus, through ingenious projects and willing teamwork, Student Council made considerable progress toward a finer Bengalia.

The delectable aroma of donuts being sold could be detected every Thursday from the Junior High building. Other projects that the Junior High Student Council confronted were the promotion of pep buttons, the innovation of a suggestion box, and the sponsoring of busses to football games. SCRIBBLERS

Whether donning tartans for a trip into the world of Robert Burns or chuckling at the humor of Ogden Nash, the members of Scribblers traveled a literary road of adventure. The ticket for the journey was a short story, essay, or poem, leading to surprises of all kinds—perhaps even a pie in the eye!

ANNUAL ART STAFF

Two captains piloted Bengalia across a sea of pages and deadlines. One captain was the industrious Charlotte McFall, whose planning and patience enabled the Art Staff to produce layouts and photographs for the Annual.

ANNUAL BUSINESS STAFF

Connie Rauch, Editor

Beginning on the last day of January, daily pilgrimages to the main office to deposit money commenced. The Annual Business Staff had initiated its sales campaign, and annual representatives were taking orders for the '66 Bengalia. In addition to this campaign Connie Rauch, the Annual Business Editor, and her staff managed the sale of Homecoming tickets and postcards of Withrow. Through concerted effort, Bengalia was expertly financed.

A MEETING OF ANNUAL'S "TOP BRASS" BRINGS TOGETHER MR. RHOLLANS ON BUSINESS, MISS RICHMOND ON LITERARY, AND MR. MUELLER ON ART.

Points in grammar, checking of accounts, redrawing of layouts, and flawless proofreading made Bengalia advisers decisive in the Annual's creation. Despite the countless hours spent after school rechecking accounts and meeting deadlines a feeling of accomplishment comes when all this work suddenly emerges as BENGALIA.

TOWER NEWS

In the year one thousand, nine hundred, and sixty-five two major changes came to the Tower News Staff. Number one: a new literary advisor joined the journalists. Miss Judy Weiss, along with Mr. Ed Terrell, business editor, aided the group in Room 12. Number two: because of a Board of Education experiment the Tower News was printed by the school. Great changes took place in 1966 and the roving reporters of Tower News promise more for 1967.

What could be a more fulfilling manner in which to master the language of France than to dine at a real French restaurant! Members of Withrow's French Club polished their French and satisfied their hunger by treating themselves to a meal at Pigall's French restaurant, at the same time drawing to a close a productive year. After sponsoring a Christmas party for its members, French Club transported the festive spirit to the Gospel Mission, where it held a Valentine party as a charity project. Advising the activities were President Charles Cooper and Mrs. Dostie.

What were suitcases, stuffed animals and tree branches doing at a meeting of El Club Espanol? These were props for just one of Spanish Club's activities, a play. For those who wanted further challenge, password and charades proved to be a test of knowledge and skill. A "Ring the Bull's Horns" booth at Tiger-town corralled a sizable profit to finance the club's ideas. Fund-raising and fun-raising, the projects involved students of all levels of Spanish.

LATIN CLUB

Latin Club performed ancient Pagan rituals to determine the outcome of their activities for the year. They reaped a large harvest as President McFall led the toga wearers in Romanesque effort, including a spring adaptation of Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, the auctioning of new members as slaves and a fruitful feast for the club at the year's end. Caesar would have praised their keeping the ways of ancient Rome alive.

ALPHA BETA HI-Y

Affiliated with the YMCA, Alpha Beta Hi-Y promotes the betterment of brotherhood in our community. Their greatest contribution to Cincinnati was the yearly work with Student Council in transporting the Thanksgiving baskets to needy families. Sending two representatives to Columbus for Youth and Government Day, another annual project, made each year more enlightening.

CHESS CLUB

The gentlemen's game of chess found willing masters in the 1966 Withrow Chess Team. Capturing its first city championship since 1960, this team completed the year undefeated through ten games. Under the leadership of Neil Daniels and Ben Feng, this Tiger quintet checkmated Country Day, Indian Hill, Mariemont and defending champion St. Xavier.

ALPHA Y-TEENS

Alpha Y-Teens, an organization to stimulate Christian fellowship, found an active chapter at Withrow. Headed by Mrs. Montana Jones, the members made dolls and animals for the children of the Allen House, making it a complete year.

"Lift your head! In yourself, within must your heaven on earth begin,

THALIAN CLUB

Led by President Peter Breidenbach and adviser Miss Rosenberger, Thalian not only produced dramatic works, but contributed public service as well.

Thalian Club dramatically made itself heard and seen. Spotlighting originality was the first prize booth award at Tigertown Twirl. Another spotlight captured the entertainment performed for the children at Findlay Street Neighborhood House. The curtain came up on other productions, including an evening of dramatic skits and the spring play. Stagecraft was a one-word explanation of Thalian Club.

Row 1: C. Horstman, L. Healy, M. Speaks. Row 2: R. Abney, J. Reid, R. Mukes.

A productive branch of Distribution Education Clubs of America was Withrow's Future Merchandisers. These young businessmen, under the direction of Mr. Charles Salie, learned the fundamentals of business. Throughout the year Withrow's union worked with retailers to prepare themselves for a successful future in the business world. Senior merchandising students challenged the problems faced by businessmen today, while they learned to appreciate our free enterprise system. From Withrow's business classes have come many accomplished young men and women. The members of this organization will surely have a more prosperous future because of the participation in D.E.C.A.

HEALTH CAREERS

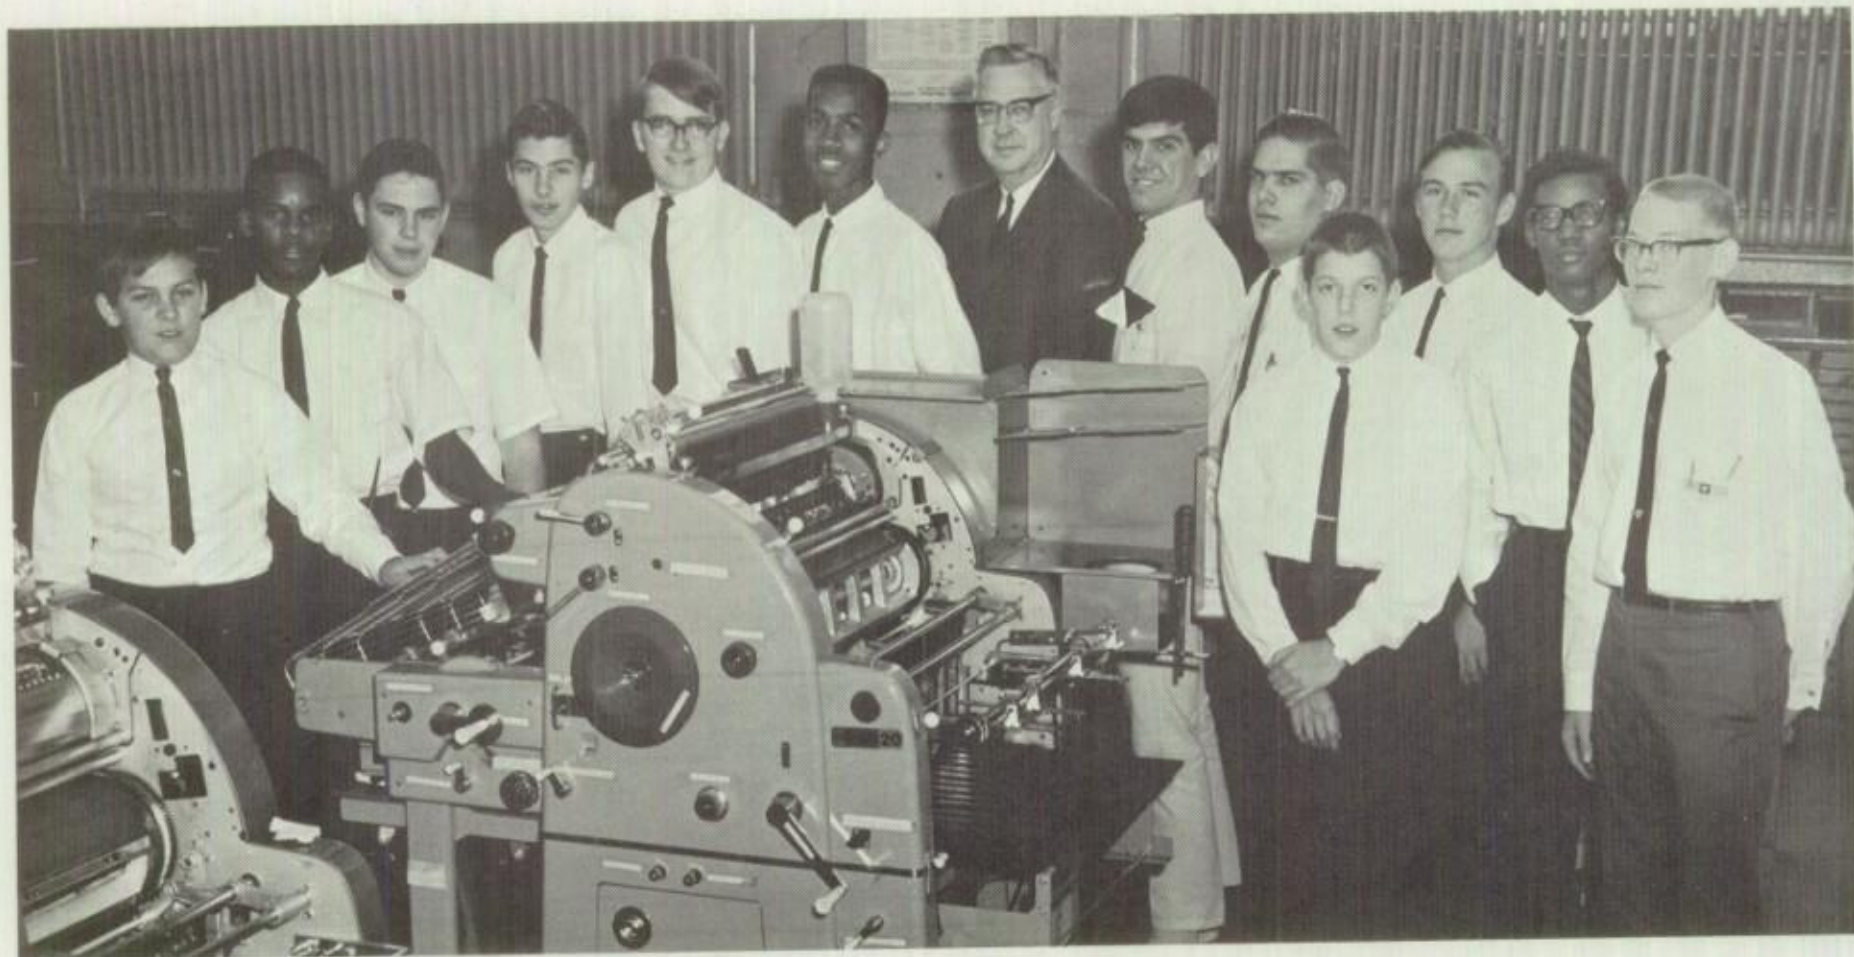

One of the most important careers a student could choose today is becoming a doctor or nurse. Withrow's Health Careers Club gave interested students a look at the medical and social work fields. Under Miss Lillian Denner this club granted a scholarship to a deserving senior interested in a medical career. The club had a variety of activities ranging from guest speakers to trips to hospitals.

PEP CLUB

The Senior Pep Club was a vital asset to Withrow and its team. No matter what the weather, the orange-buttoned members were always at the games giving the team a needed boost. These organized fans reflected school spirit and proved how a group of students can care enough to support their school. Mr. Gallagher and the Pep Club members will always be an indispensable part of Withrow.

In addition, Withrow's printers organized in the Offset Club produced most of the school's pamphlets, bulletins, and advertisements.

SENIOR CHOIR

EVEN SYNCHRONIZED SILENCE REQUIRES FREQUENT PRACTICE.

Melodic echoes resounded from Room 150, as Senior Choir practiced its repertoire, a potpourri of many styles of music. The biannual performance of the "Messiah" highlighted the Christmas season; but less serious songs followed, as the Choir "du-bad" through a swing Bach arrangement and "tootled" through "The Musical Trust" at the Early Spring Concert. With the advent of spring came a rush of renewed effort, as the songsters perfected their contest numbers and their arrangements for "The Sounds of Withrow '66." No matter where it performed, Senior Choir echoed the skill of Ansel Martin.

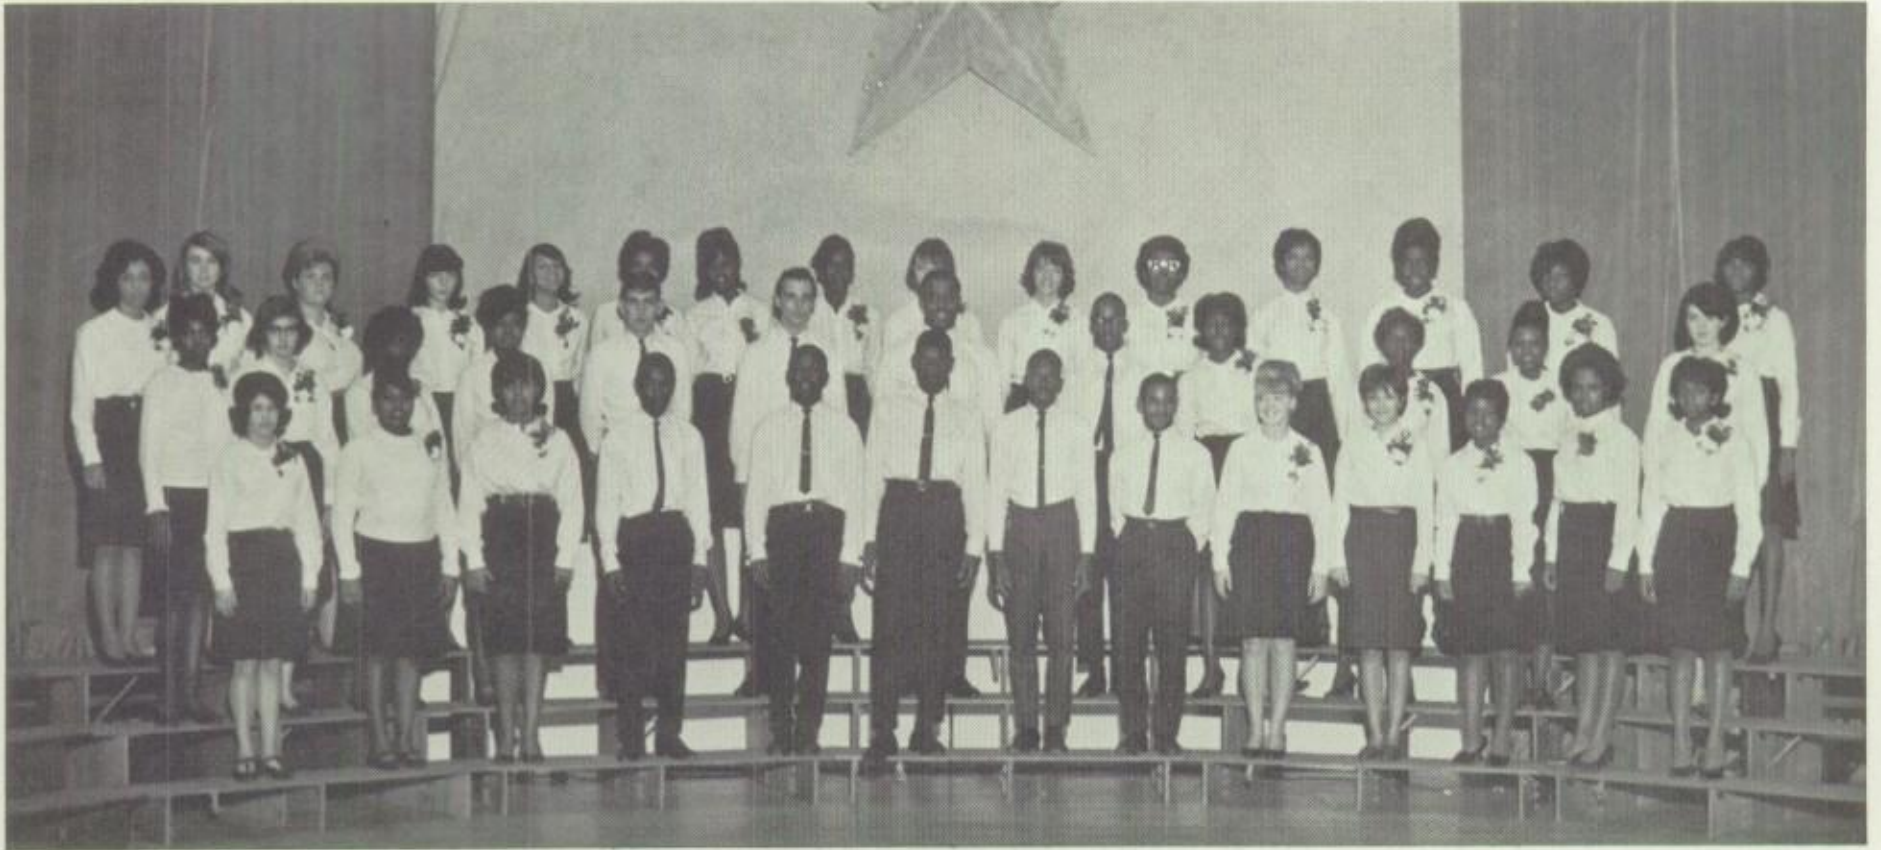

BENGALIA'S JUNIOR SINGERS PASS IN REVIEW.

The halls were alive with the sound of Withrow with songs that were sung by Junior Choir and Madrigal. These two groups, representing the Alpha and Omega of the Music Department, contributed their talents in all Bengal musical productions. Syncopating their melodies outside Withrow, Madrigal caroled at Fountain Square during Christmas.

THROUGH CONSTANT EFFORT MIXED CHORUS MASTERS MUSIC TECHNIQUES AND THEORY.

Perseverance was their by-word; and perfection, their goal. Following the precedent set by previous groups, the '65-'66 girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus sang their way through the most rewarding year yet. Under the leadership of Mr. Ansel Martin these groups performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts—after long hours of perseverance attaining honor.

The Withrow Band began its season with the first league game. The 110-piece band played at games and assemblies, and teamed with the orchestra for the spring and Christmas concerts. Led by co-heads Jean Heiman and Sue Slaughter, the major-ettes—Sharon Perkinson, Karen Wright, Shirley Cooper, Jo Ogley, Chris Ballard, and Paula Daniel—added sparkle to the band. Head manager, Pete Williams and his staff, including Dave Kuhn, Don Swart, Pete Ross, and Terry Powell handled the uniforms, sets, and traveling itinerary.

Band Managers: P. Ross, T. Powell, D. Swart, P. Williams, D. Kuhn.

The Senior Band was ever marching, ever playing their way to a new musical height. Mr. Curtis cajoled them, drilled them, disciplined them, inspired them and step by step they mastered the artistry expressed by his virtuosity.

ORCHESTRA

The audience was seated; there was silence in the hall. As the conductor entered, there was a greeting of applause. With a tap on the podium, bows were poised in air and trumpets were ready to play. A small motion of the baton started another performance by the Withrow orchestra. This renowned group delighted students at the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts.

A shrill of a whistle started them. The talk and laughter were hushed. They stood at military attention. A fanfare introduced them. The roll of the snare drums, the clash of the cymbals, the flare of the trumpets, and the boom of the bass drum caught the undivided attention of their audience. Then with the distinction for which they are known the sixty-member band of Withrow's Junior High, directed by Mr. Lackey, proved their ability with determination. Participation in the Spring Concert and All-City Band fulfilled a year of musical adventure.

JILL HAMPTON REVELS IN THE SUCCESS OF THE GRIDDERS.

QUARTERBACK STARKEY GRINDS OUT SHORT YARDAGE AGAINST WESTERN HILLS.

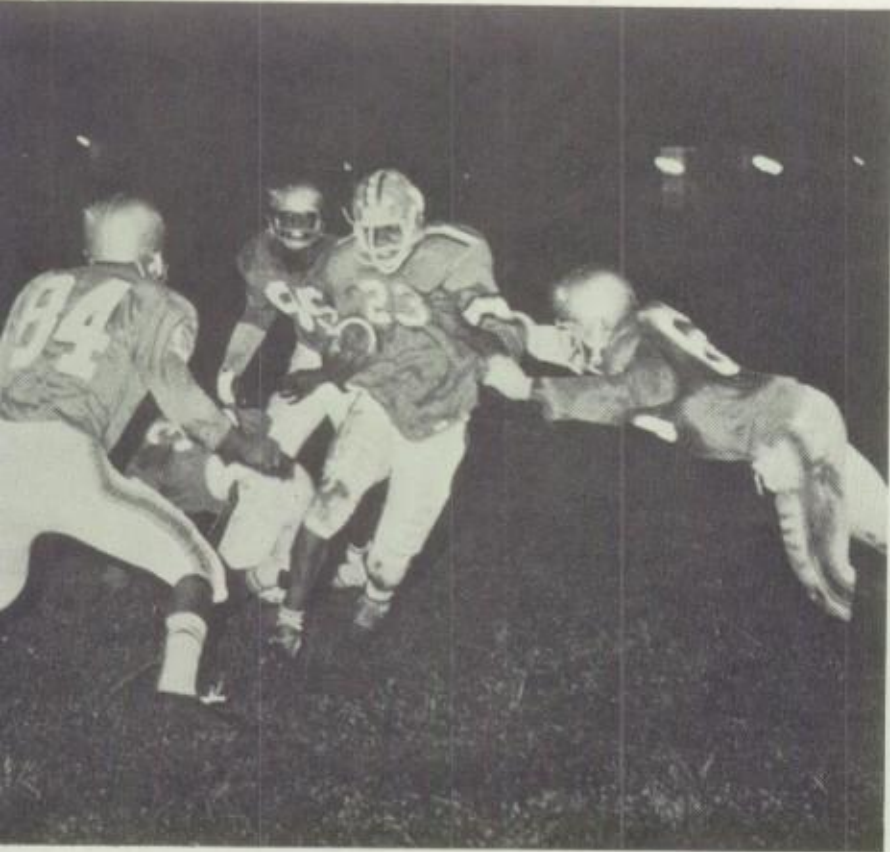

Tigers rebound from three early losses to emerge from difficult schedule with PHSL title.

Withrow's football Tigers began the 1965-'66 season with the encouraging prediction that they would emerge as Public High School League champions. After three losses in four games, however, it appeared that the "powers that be" had spoken too quickly. St. Xavier, Niles McKinley, and league rival Woodward made kittens of the mighty Tigers. Shocked by their inability to win, the gridgers buckled down and finished the season in grand style. Tremendous scoring punch was provided by Tom Barnes, Walter Barnes, Wilfred Davis, and their running mates as the Tigers bared their claws. The defense also did its job, enabling Withrow to meet the challenge and gain the PHSL title.

A segment of an over-all productive year for Withrow football was the praiseworthy effort of the junior high team. The charges of Coach Charles Cadle came through with a log of five wins, one loss, one tie, and a second place finish in the league. Their only loss was to Samuel Ach Junior High, the league champions. In only two of seven games did the little Tigers allow their opponents to score, while they averaged an impressive fifteen points more than their rivals. Players showing especial promise were Tom Ferone, Gene Beche, and Tom Vilardo.

GIRLS' SPORTS

WITHROW TIGRESSES STRETCH TOWARD ATHLETIC DEVELOPMENT.

IF WE SAW THESE RINGS IN HALF, WE CAN POSSIBLY FREE YOU.

The clack, clack of the hockey sticks syncopated the cheering from the girls' gymnasium. No matter where the action occurred, girls' sports invariably taught sportsmanship and progress in skills.

THE ART OF BALLET PROVES HELPFUL IN BASKETBALL.

Suzy Gwinner, V.P.

Jeanne Maish, Treas.

Rhonda Bowen, Corr. Secy.

Leading Withrow's largest organization (Girls' Athletic Association) were diligent tigresses who initiated ideas and fulfilled plans.

In Serowe, Bechuanaland, the endless throbbing of the native drums competed with alien sounds. The crack of baseball bat striking ball, the whoosh of tether ball soaring in air, the smack of volleyball meeting hand—the Africans shared these experiences because GAA sent them sports equipment and money in care of the Swaneng Hill School (Serowe's only high school, founded in 1962). In addition GAA had numerous local endeavors plus the many athletic activities.

Jeannie Heimann, Pres.

Kita Brown, Jr. High Advisor

Marge Offet, Rec. Secy.

Managers: Lucy Howard, swimming; Barb Wilson, archery; Phyllis Mattison, basketball; Brenda Dixon, volleyball; Sandy Jones, hockey.

GAA MANAGERS

GAA ADVISERS

Advisers: Miss Grace Blasberg, Miss Elizabeth Leslie, Miss Eleanor Graham, Miss Mona Dorsey.

Officers: L. Howard, Pres.; C. McTigue, V-Pres.; J. Knoechel, Secy.; C. Rauch, Treas.

Beginning in Hawaii and traveling to such places as exotic Japan, gay Paris, regal London, and bustling New York, Dolphin Club guided spectators on a tour of the globe. "Around the World," this year's version of the swimming club's bi-annual ventures, was a clever combination of the water ballerinas' talents and eye-catching costumes. With-row's mermaids did not, however, limit their exploits to precision swimming. Under the direction of Miss Mona Dorsey, the Tigress swimmers participated in several intra-school meets climaxed by an all-city meet.

DANCE CLUB

WITH A HAND ARCHED IN ARABESQUE, JILL HAMPTON LED HER CLUB MEMBERS IN A BALLET ROUTINE.

Officers: J. Hampton, Pres.; S. Breeze, V.P.; C. McFall, Secy.-Treas.

Are you very adept at being a tree? Although it is doubtful that anyone will ever be asked to do this in an everyday situation, such a test accurately revealed the expressive power of prospective Dance Club members. Also performing a leap, walk, and run, the girls successfully displayed their grace, coordination, and rhythm.

With try-outs over, the members concentrated on improving their techniques by attending symposiums and by practicing at weekly meetings. At the annual tea came the highlight of the year—the dancers portrayed "Life in a School Day," revealing their talent to the guests, their mothers.

Bottom Row: M. Scott, L. Sweeney, Y. Oppelt, A. Blossom, R. Kegley, Meadows, K. Howard. Top Row: S. Heller, L. Motley, C. Harris, D. Benton, C. Owens, J. Lewis, J. Kidd, H. Edmondson.

Whether dribbling a basketball, racking up the score in tennis, batting a baseball, sprinting for track, or going head over heels for tumbling, Junior High GAA confirmed its merit in guidance and sportsmanship.

JUNIOR HIGH G.A.A.

Adviser Miss Mabel Robinson focused the microscope to examine the specimen, Junior High GAA. The first visible species was Junior Leaders. A novel branch of GAA, these freshmen girls refereed GAA's sports and vied in their own bouts. Judged on form and strokes was the next class, Junior Dolphins. The third order was compiled of snappy cheerleaders. The final group was the eighth-grade managers, who planned social events and enterprises. A shadow blurred the vision—another year had ended.

Managers—Bottom to Top: C. Hoehn, Pres.; V. Foster, V. P.; L. Simpson, Secy.-Treas.; P. Warren, Tumbling; S. Childress, Soccer; N. Outin, Swim; E. Hodge, Swim; K. Chadwell, Basketball; D. Hooker, Softball; N. Clore, Volleyball; S. Martin, Track; Miss Robinson.

To My Christian Brother,

Six years ago God gave me the good fortune of meeting one of the kindest persons I have ever known. I thank him each and every day for such a great honor. Posey, do you realize that we're now practically on our own? I won't say that we'll never see each other again, because we'll be a V.C. together, and we'll be singing together at church. The friendship that we have had will last, and last, and last, and last, forever, and ever, and ever, and ever. Although we've had disagreements and arguments our friendship has endured. I think I'll close now before I cry.

Once again I find it a privilege to put especially ~~since this is~~ the last time I will, so so, I hope.

Just stop and think the last time after six long we've finally read the Senior Section of the Annual. I realize that is more than a blessing. Just stop and think how good God is. Next year we will venture new and even more difficult tasks. But I know I and know you know how good God is and that he will make a way out of known way. All we have to do just trust him. The only ~~the~~ thing I regret is that you could be with us this year at all. Without you were really missed, this I promise you.

Best wishes and may God forever bless and keep you the Godly young man you are.
